Table 2 Summary of typology, target population and actions of policies selected for review

Policy	Jurisdiction	Policy Format	Target Population	Applicable to	Relevant Strategy or Action
The National Plan [1]	National (COAG)	Framework for Action	Women living in Australia and their children	Commonwealth, state and territory governments of Australia	Strengthening Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander communities is a national outcome (p.20-22). Focus on fostering leadership of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women, building community capacity and improving access to services.
The Third Action Plan [2]	National (COAG)	Action Plan	Women living in Australia and their children	Commonwealth, state and territory governments of Australia	Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women and children are a national priority area (p.14-17).
The White Book [3]	National (RACGP)	Clinical Guidelines	Patients in general practice	General Practitioners	Specific recommendations for treating Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander violence (p.82-89).
Minymaku Kutju Tjukurpa	National (Centre for Remote Health)	Clinical Guidelines	Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women in remote Australia	Remote health practitioners including nurses and Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander Health Practitioners	Guidelines for the management of Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander women's health in remote settings.
NSW AFHW Operational Guidelines [4]	NSW	Guidelines	Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander families accessing health services	Aboriginal Family Health Workers (and managers and stakeholders)	Early intervention activities in family violence scenarios as core role of Aboriginal Family Health Workers (AFHW).
WA Guidelines [5]	WA	Guidelines	Patients accessing	Health professionals	Additional information and practice points for health professionals health services		with Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander patients (p.5, 8).

WA Reference Manual [6]	WA	Reference Manual	Patients accessing health services	Health professionals	Aboriginal and Torres Strait Islander people and families are a specialist area. Practice points, risk issues to consider and support agencies are suggested (p.51-3).